YOUTH SUNDAY, NEXT SUNDAY

Next weekend, March 17 and March 18, is a time of special prayer of Christian Youth. Throughout the Diocese of Lansing, special observances are being planned in connection with this day. This special observance will become an annual event on the Sunday closest to the Feast of St. Joseph, March 19. Each Diocese of the world has been asked to replace the four Ember Seasons of the Church's calendar with days of special prayer for particular people or needs of the local Diocese. Our Diocese has chosen one of these times to be a special time of prayer for young Christians.

To observe Youth Sunday in our own parish of St. John's, the Worship Commission has invited a representative youth to provide and deliver his or her personal meditation after Holy Communion. Refreshments will be served after all Masses next weekend. We hope you will join us for this special day.

CONFIRMATION

The eighth and ninth graders are looking forward to making their Confirmation soon. Actually all of us can look forward to this event because it is a happening affecting the Total Parish. Those of you who are confirmed know that this sacrament which is received only once, effects no immediate, automatic, sudden and discernable change in a person's life style. Nothing special is necessarily felt. You didn't receive any great enlightenment. So what then is the significance of this sacrament?

Let's begin to explain it this way. Suppose all of the adults in our parish change from saying, "I made my Confirmation years ago," or "I made my Confirmation when I was 12" and so on to "I am a confirmed Christian sealing my commitment to my belief in and love for the risen Christ by the way I am now living, now concerned with the real needs of my neighbors, the strengthening of our faith community by my own actions which have an effect on them." This is not just pious talk. Confirmation provides the opportunity for the candidate and the whole Parish Community to respond to the action and direction of the Spirit of Jesus in our lives. Confirmation is a time for a Parish Community to renew and recommit itself to living out their Christian identity, vocation and commitment to be a witness to and for the truth and meaning of Jesus. It means that day by day we strive to see Him more clearly, follow him more nearly and love him more dearly.

If you reflect then on the fact that you are confirmed you recognize the importance of this year's Confirmation happening. You realize the challenge and the call that this event presents to us all to be more for Christ and one another.

All registered parishioners have received a special invitation from the Worship Commission to be participants in the offertory procession at Sunday Masses throughout the year. This invite was contained in the March mailing of envelopes. Please complete the designated card and place it in the collection basket on Sunday. The head usher assigned to the Mass you designate on the card will contact you by phone to make arrangements that are agreeable with you and your family.

MISSALETTES

As was announced a few weeks ago, the parish has subscribed to a limited number of missalettes for those who prefer to use them. Very few have been used this past month. We just remind you that such aids are available in the main vestibule of the church.

FROM THE DESK OF SR. ANNE HEATH

Since November we've tried to have one article or column a month related to a topic in religious education. Have you read these inserts? Have they helped you to understand, wonder about, or feel differently about any issues? Remember: "Was I Taught Wrong?" "Prepare Ye the Way of The Lord/Long Live God," "Parents, You've Got A Lot To Give" and "Where Is God?" I'd like to serve you in this way but I don't need busy work to keep me going. If you have liked, disliked, valued or ignored these articles in the Ypsi Catholic would you let me know. If you have a question or topic you want us to answer and write about let us know that, too. You can call the Center or Convent, you can write an anonymous or signed comment and place it in the suggestion box tacked to the bulletin board in the church vestibule, you can talk to me about it downstairs at coffee and doughnuts, or stop by my office during the week. I'd visit your home if that would be better for you. Being in touch is important, else how can we really share?

LAY DISTRIBUTORS OF THE HOLY EUCHARIST INSTALLED TODAY

For the past three weeks, nineteen men and women of our parish community have been preparing to assume the role of lay distributor of the Holy Eucharist. Bishop Zaleski has approved the suggested candidates for this participatory ministry and today they are formally installed in our parish. We extend our congratulations to these men and women and offer our gratitude for their willingness to assume a greater degree of active participation in the most central act of our faith, the celebration of the Holy Eucharist. The list of candidates was drawn up by the Worship Commission earlier this year when the need for such assistance was clearly recognized in our own parish due to the unavailability of pastoral assistance on Sundays and to the very happy situation of the large numbers of parishioners receiving Communion at particular Masses on the weekend. All names of parishioners who had been suggested by other parishioners in a poll taken June, 1971 and/or those who had volunteered for this ministry through the Time and Talent Survey taken in 1972, were contacted regarding their present interest in being lay distributors. Some, whose names had been suggested for this office, declined the invitation to be a lay minister of the Eucharist. We respect such decisions.

Two or three important points should be understood and remembered regarding role of participation.

1. The lay minister of the Eucharist in no way replaces the priest.
2. No one is forced in any way to receive Holy Communion from the lay minister.
3. The role of lay minister is not a new invention but rather the revival of an ancient practice.

It would be incomplete to say that the priest is the only minister of the total Sacrament of the Eucharist. All who have been baptized (because of the share in the priesthood of Christ received in Baptism) are, to that extent, ministers of the Eucharist in all its aspects, especially in the liturgical, sacramental celebration of the Eucharist but also throughout their lives as Christians. In this context then, we can see how it is possible for someone other than the priest-celebrant to distribute Communion. The DISTRIBUTION of Communion is a MINISTRY OF PARTICIPATION in the Eucharist. Although the priest-celebrant is the "ordinary minister" of this greatest form of participation because he is the central and indispensable minister of the sacrament, nevertheless the distribution of Communion is not restricted to him because he is not the only minister of the Sacrament of the Eucharist. When the need arises, then, and with the proper approbation, someone other than the priest-celebrant may be the minister, the intermediary, for this participation in the Sacrament of the Eucharist.

In considering this or any recent change in the Church, it is always well to remember the distinction between what we call matters of DOCTRINE and matters of DISCIPLINE in our religion. The Church cannot change God's laws, but she can certainly modify or make exceptions to her own disciplinary rules. Such is the case of the Church once again allowing laymen to assist the priest in distributing the Holy Eucharist at Mass and to the sick when there is need. As we saw in the film strip shown at all Masses last weekend, it was common practice in the history of the Christian Church to allow faithful Christians to carry the Eucharist to the sick so that they would not unduly be deprived of the riches and life of Christ in the Sacrament of Christ's Body and Blood. While our own lay ministers will mainly assist in the distribution of the Eucharist during Mass, the possibility of bringing the Holy Eucharist to the sick more frequently than is now possible becomes a real possibility.

Reverend William King
St. John's Catholic Church
410 W. Cross
Ypsilanti, Michigan

Dear Father,

This, my last official letter to you as the executive of Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw County, is an official thank you for another successful Good Samaritan membership drive. The drive has now reached the $12,000 mark. To date, the total contribution from St. John's Catholic Church is $1,633.

Thank you for your help and thanks to the members of your parish for being such generous givers. The money will help finance agency programs which would otherwise have to be given up, and young people and poor people at this time need all the help they can get.

Thank you, and thanks to your parishioners for helping Catholic Social Services again this year.

Sincerely,
(Miss) Marguetite M. Parrish, ACSW
Director
